Ein alter Hase teilt jahrelange ErfahrungVon Wolf PergAmit Agarwal, der Autor, ist stark im Internet mit seinem Technik-Blog vertreten. Seit Jahren beobachtet er die Entwicklung des Internet-Sektors und stellt interessante Apps, Web-Apps, Techniken, Tipps und Tricks vor. Seine Themen sind alles rund um die vernetzte Arbeit und mehr. In diesem Buch geht es um ber hundert Anbieter im Netz, die sich mit sehr praktischen Services hervortun. Amit probiert auch alles aus, was man zu einer Sache auskosten kann. Wenn er einen Vortrag halten muss, richtet er im Vorfeld schon eine kostenlose Website dazu ein, mit Einladungsfunktion, Download-Sektion, Bewertungstool..., verwendet QR-Codes auf Folien, und so weiter...Es sind also etwas ber hundert Seiten vorgestellt mit ihren Services. Es liest sich wie ein Nachschlagewerk und ist sehr knapp gehalten. Nicht der Text macht den Wert dieser Arbeit aus, sondern die Links zu tollen, kostenlosen Services im Internet. Wrd ich sagen...

Kurzbeschreibung There are some 175 million active websites on the Internet. Some of them like Google, Wikipedia, Dropbox or IMDB are extremely popular and you probably use them everyday. There's another set of undiscovered websites that are also very useful but they aren't known to most people. Whether you want to record a movie of your computer screen or wish to print web pages more efficiently, there's a website out there that can easily solve your problem. This book is a collection of 150 such lesser-known but incredibly useful websites that will enhance your productivity. Here are some comments from people who bought the book: Ludwig Flug (on Facebook) - I'm the one, who bought this. Every chapter has one theme, one or more links and a few sentences to explain the theme and the links. Among a few well-known I found a few interesting infos and a few very worthwhile pearls of internet-tools. I'm happy, that I bought this book. Look at the price. It's cheap. Martin Lehmann (on Facebook) - Wow. The very first entry, Bounce, was the solution I've been looking for for over two years. Excited to keep reading. Marie Boe (via Email) - I just got your ebook on .com for 3,99$. (I live in Montreal, Quebec). Very good info and easy to consult on Kindle as all the links work very well in the table of contents and for every site. Kurzbeschreibung There are some 175 million active websites on the Internet.
